

Group 4 Circle Plan:

Main focus: Social Discipline Window

		Resources
Check-in	Hello my name is ... and three things I would take with me to an desert island ...	Talking objects
Mixer	Swap places if ... You have sister, like gin, have ridden a horse, know someone with a caravan
Main focus	Recall the Social discipline window. Read scenario of Pete & Lance. What would you see/hear/feel from an adult responding in each section of social discipline window Feedback as group	Social discipline widow posters Scenario
Energiser	Tanged Up Link arms as a circle then complete range of actions, touching your nose, touching your toes, scratching your ear etc without breaking the chain
Check-out	Gin or tea	Talking object

Pete & Lance

The Football Match (Appendix 11)

Pete, John and Lance were playing with a football ball at break time. They were taking turns to try to kick the ball into the goals. It was Pete's turn. John and Lance stood in front of goals as the two goal keepers — it was their job to try to stop the ball going through when Pete kicked it. Pete was the only one who hadn't scored a goal. John and Lance had scored a goal each. Pete was worried that he'd be the only one who hadn't scored a goal. He didn't want to look like a bad football player.

Pete took a big run up and kicked as hard as he could. The ball went flying through the air toward the goal — it was a great kick and looked as though it would be a goal for sure. Lance knew he'd have to jump as high as he could to stop the goal. He shut his eyes and jumped with his arms outstretched as high as he could. The ball just touched the tips of his fingers and then flew over the top of the goals. Lance and his tremendous leap had just stopped a certain goal!

When Pete saw that Lance had stopped the goal his face turned to thunder. He thought to himself, "The bell is going and I'm the only one who hasn't scored a goal." He felt his stomach tighten into a knot and his face get really hot. His feelings were taking control of him. Pete picked up a lump of dirt and threw it at Lance. It hit Lance right in the face. Lance fell to the ground with dirt in his eyes and started to cry. John yelled angrily at Pete, "Why did you do that?" Pete didn't know why he'd just hurt Lance. His brain felt like scrambled eggs and he couldn't think of anything to say. Pete felt angry at himself and wished he could undo what he just did.

Lance went to the sick room and Pete went to the office.